POLITICAL PARADE

By CLEM WHITAKER

Politics simply refuses to be blacked out, even in the face of the thunder of war and the shrill scream of the air raid siren. It has ever been thus in this nation. It is a sign, perhaps, that a robut democracy counts leadership more important in war time than in peace time!

At any rate, whatever the reason, California politics instead of cooling off since a state of war was declared, is warming up. This is a period when you can expect every citizen to be on the alert—a circumstance which may end some careers abruptly, and launch others.

Currently, there's an increasing interest in the forthcoming campaign for Lieutenant Governor, an office which is often neglected by the electorate, despite the fact that it is of growing importance.

Lieutenant Governor Ellis E. Patterson, a political chameleon who has made the mistake of playing the game of the radical fringe and leftists during his incumbency, is almost certain to be retired without benefit of pension. The sun of radicalism has definitely set—and unless Mr. Patterson can do a most convincing quick-change act his political days are numbered.

Governor Olson's lieutenants, sesing Mr. Patterson's vulnerable position, have been casting about for a more acceptable running-mate for the Governor. The Olson kitchen cabinet, in fact, is in a great dither of excitement over the matter. Director of Public Works Frank W. Clark, would like the spot. Secretary of State Paul Peek, formerly the Olson Speaker of the Assembly, would likewise like it. And report now hath it that the Governor would like to see Senator J. C. Garrison of Modesto picked to succeed Mr. Patterson. Senator Garrison, chiefly celebrated as a public ownership zealot, will undoubtedly be a candidate—and probably will have Governor Olson's blessing.

The man most likely to win the Licutenant Governorship, however—if public support at the moment means anything—is an earnest young fellow who hasn't been a party to any of the kitchen cabinet dickering at all. His name is James Rolph III, son of one of California's most famous Governors, James Rolph, Jr.

At 38 years of age, Jim Rolph has enough age so that the more serious politicians consider him well seasoned, but enough youth and fire to appeal to public imagination. Four years ago, he made a surprising race, with virtually no campaign fund. And he has Rolph charm; Rolph love of California—a typically Rolph attitude of being a Californian, arther than simply a party candidate. He happens to be a Republican, but he has just as many friends in the Democratic Party. Watch young Jim!

St. Lucy's club will meet today, Thursday, Dec. 18. Because of special plans for a Christmas party, members are requested to attend.

LOCAL DEFENSE CONFORMS TO STATE PLAN

At a meeting of Campbell's emergency defense council last night County Chairman Joseph McKinnon told members Ira Grim, Jack Scott, Antone Ferro, Ethan Lanphear and W. H. Van Dyke that the local set-up is, with a few minor changes, in accord with county and statewide organization. The talked of state-wide uniformity black-out signals has not yet been arrived at, according to information received by the Press today, although notification of uniform signals is expected momentarily.

Precinct captains have been appointed, according to Chairman Grim, who revealed that territory covered includes Campbell township, with the exception of the county hospital area, which has been taken over by the San Jose committee. Each precinct captain will in turn appoint five or six deputy wardens and a first aid man.

The committee is also asking the deputization of six extra night watchmen to go on duty in the business district in case of black-out. These will be in addition to the special traffic police who will be under the direction of Ethan Lanphear, who is this week attending a school of instruction for civil officers in San Jose.

Preparations for organizing a first aid unit to augment nurses already registered with the committee are under way, acording to W. H. Van Dyke, who will organize classes to be held at the high school. Dr. Frank R. Anderson and school Nurse Alfreda Runge will be in charge of instruction.

Service Club Held Christmas Meet Yesterday

The Women's Service club held its Christmas meeting Dec. 17 at the home of Mrs. Ira Abbott with Mrs. Mary Dwelley, Mrs. Herbert Hudson, Mrs. Helene Smith, and Miss Winnie Grizzle assisting. Each member brought donations for the Christmas boxes which are to be packed, and to be delivered by the Hi-Y boys.

The meeting was held in the rumpus room of the Abbott home which was festive with Christmas decorations.

A group of girls from the Campbell high school put on a short program. Edna Harnish read the Christmas story from the Bible and Ruth Cousins, Teresa Conetto, Lois Frisch and Bernice Hansen sang several Christmas carols.

The next meeting will be Jan. 28 at the home of Mrs. Esther Short, with Mrs. William Saveker and Mrs. Frank Richardson assisting.

Emergency First Aid Committee Asks Equipment

Let's Make 'Em Comfy!

Nearly everyone has an odd but still serviceable chair which they are willing to loan to the troops encamped at the old Hyde cannery. Lt. Jim Campbell and his boys will appreciate them. Also needed are a table, magazines, writing materials, stamps, etc. Notify Mrs. Leverton, phone 150, of willingness to help.

Local emergency defense committeemen Walter Stray and George Burrow, working in close cooperation with the Campbell unit, Ira Grim, chairman, and the county unit, Joseph McKinnon, chairman, yesterday forwarded plans for the establishment of Emergency First Aid Station No. 1, which will be located at the Congregational church on North Central avenue.

Three large Sunday school rooms have been set aside for the station. The rooms are heated from a central plant, and cooking and hot water facilities are immediately available. First move was the blacking-out with building board of all windows in these quarters.

A great deal of necessary equipment has already been secured, but there are a number of items that must be forthcoming, as loans, from the generous people of the community.

Specifically, the committeemen are asking for 20 pairs of blankets, six single beds complete with springs and mattresses, six extra single mattresses, and 24 pillows. Every item loaned should bear the owner's name and address in order that it may be returned at the end of the emergency. The committee, however, cannot be held responsible for equipment that is worn out or destroyed while answering its emergency purpose. Those who can and will lend any of these items are asked to please call the Press office, Campbell 21-J; a truck will call for the goods.

Plans are also under way for the setting up of station No. 2 at the Scout hall. This will not be immediately equipped, but the committee

Services for Mrs. Mary E. Nelson Held Wednesday

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary E. Nelson were held Wednesday afternoon from the funeral parlors of Amos O. Williams, with Rev. J. H. Bennett officiating. Interment was in Oak Hill Memorial Park.

Mrs. Nelson, a native of Barnet, Vt., had made her home in Campbell and San Jose with her children, for the past ten years.

Until the last few of her 93 years, Mrs. Nelson was an exceptionally active woman, maintaining her interest in affairs and in attendance at church.

She leaves four children, Nate, Hugh, and Norman Nelson, and Mrs. Annie L. Fletcher, and a brother, Robert C. Giler of Pittsburgh, Pa. One son, Robert Nelson, preceded her in death. There are also 20 grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Buccaneers Take Pair from "Cats"

Finally hitting their stride after a loss to Watsonville, the Campbell High Buccaneers eked out a 24-23 victory over the Los Gatos Wildcats at Los Gatos, Dec. 12. This game was one of the finest comebacks witnessed in local basketball for a long time.

A lot of credit is due Reese Parker, who, by sinking three baskets in a row, took the game off ice. Parker was high point man for Campbell with 10 points and Bob Pouey of Los Gatos, high all around with 14.

The 130 team defeated the Cats squad by a score of 22 to 15.

The San Jose Tech Tigers will meet the Campbell Bucs on the home court tomorrow at 3:15. The local teams are expected to win.

The Footlighters met Tuesday evening in the hall for try-outs for the play "The Whole Town's Talking." Although the play may not be presented at the scheduled time, due to the emergency, work on the production will go on, to be in readiness for the future.

Local Red Cross Unit Meeting Twice Weekly

Mrs. Howard J. Smith, general chairman of Red Cross sewing is announcing no work meetings at the community hall until Friday, Jan. 2. After that date there will be two afternoons of work a week, both sewing and knitting, with Mrs. Ray Wood in charge on Wednesday, and Mrs. J. O. Leverton on Friday. Hours, 1 to 4.

Mrs. Nellie Mills is in charge of the knitting.

Sewing to be done at home may be secured at other times by calling at the home of Mrs. Smith, corner, Winchester road and Rincon avenue, and yarn at the Congregational manse, North Central avenue.

Mrs. Smith was very much encouraged by the increase in numbers at yesterday's meeting.

The Country Woman's club offered the use of the hall for the additional meeting day in response to the urgent need for more workers.

Gifts for Soldiers

Gifts for the soldiers stationed in Campbell may be placed in boxes found in several stores here from Friday through Wednesday.

Citizens are asked to donate candy, cookies, playing cards, smokes, games, magazines or anything that would contribute to the soldier's Christmas.

800 ATTEND DEFENSE MASS MEETING HERE

The gathering of more than 800 people in response to the hurried call for a defense mass meeting was evidence of the seriousness with which the present situation is regarded.

This spirit and desire to do what ever was possible to insure safety for themselves, the community and the men fighting our battles was fully demonstrated when the plans prepared by the defense committee had been explained and opportunity was given for sign up under the various departments of service.

These listed: Nurses, registered, undergraduate and practical; clerical workers; trained first aiders; those wishing to enter first aid classes; emergency fire and police workers; precinct wardens, transportation committee (truck and station wagons).

All firearms in the community will be registered.

Since the meeting Thursday the work of organizing those various branches and getting them functioning is progressing rapidly.

The defense committee that was responsible for getting things under way so satisfactorily was Ethan Lanphear, constable, who is coordinated with Sheriff Emig in law enforcement. Ira Grim, warden, Willard H. Van Dyke, high school principal, who was ably supported by members of the faculty in taking registrations, and Jack Scott, chief of the fire department ,and Antone Ferro, another of the fire commission.

Cooperation, speedy response to all rules and regulations, and willingness to give of time and effort, are the best means of trying to insure safety.

B. B. Botts has purchased the home of Mrs. Joseph Halamicek on Fourth street. As soon as they move from their present location number 30 on the same street, the Perley B. Payne family will occupy that. The Drew Canning company recently acquired all the property on the north side of Hopkins street, where the Payne's now live.

FLOYD BRYANT KILLED IN PEARL HARBOR ATTACK

The first casualty of the war bringing bereavement to a Campbell family so far reported was that of Floyd Eugene Bryant, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Bryant of North Third street.

Young Bryant had served in the navy for three years and was a coxswain. He was one of those killed in the Japanese attack on Honolulu, according to word received by his parents from the navy.

Bryant attended Campbell high school before enlisting. He has a brother, Robert H. who is a navy pilot and was recently stationed at Seattle.

Other relatives are two sisters, Mrs. Edith Hunter, Klamath Falls, and Mrs. Lillian Moore, San Jose, and a brother William Weaver of Simpson, Nev.,

Mrs. Bryant has been president of the Navy oMther's club in San Jose.

While other families are hearing of the safety of loved ones, this "gold star" family is extended the sympathy of their fellow citizens for their loss.

Clubmen Hear Concert at High School Monday

The Kiwanis club adjourned Tuesday after lunch to the Campbell Union High school auditorium where they enjoyed the concert and tableaux of the choir and musicians.

Next week there will be no dinner meeting but the members will be divided in two groups, one to serve at the Campbell theater in the morning and the other in the afternoon, when the club entertains all of the Campbell Union Grammar school pupils at special matinees, on Tuesday, Dec. 23.

Attendance of club members at these times counts on the attendance record.

Every Carrot Counts Now

Kenneth Dwelley who has been asked to take over the supervision of the volunteer vegetable growing efforts for home and school gardens in this community, plans to attend a meeting called for tomorrow night, of supervisors appointed by County Superintendent Lewis H. Britton.

Following this meeting, Dwelley, agricultural instructor at Campbell High school, expects to be able to supply some definite information. The garden slogan is "Every Carrot Counts."

Art Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Smith of Sunnyside avenue, and Jerry Sullivan, brother of Mrs. Walter Silberbauer, have enlisted in the army air corps and are now on their way to Missouri for their basic training.

THE INEVITABLE HAS HAPPENED

The unprovoked attack of Japan on American possessions simply marked the occurrence of the inevitable. For many months, most authorities have been convinced that we could not avoid formal participation in the war that now engulfs all the continents. The big question was when and where the spark would be ignited. The Japanese militarists, spurred by their Axis comrades, have answered that question for us and for the world.

The American people enter this war with a sense of grim and bitter necessity. No thinking man wants war. It is to the great credit of our government that it did everything possible, within the bounds of our national honor and interests, to maintain peace. That effort failed through no fault of those who administer our governmental affairs. It failed because the ruthless conquerors of our time are bent on world domination. Nothing less can satisfy them. It is all or nothing. And so the democratic world is allied in arms against the totalitarian world in the greatest war history has ever known.

Here in America the task is clear. The American people will support their government to the limit, and they will make whatever sacrifices are necessary. The issue of intervention versus non-intervention is as dead as last year's news. The isolationist leaders, displaying that patriotism which characterizes all true Americans, however different their opinions, have pledged their full support to the President and the nation. From this time on, it is the job of all to show the world that a free America is more than a match for any adversary.

The soldiers and the sailors who fight in this war carry into battle a traditional freedom. They are not the unthinking, "heiling" subjects of a dictator. They are not slaves, living and dying like puppets at the whim of a master. They have been reared in the freest of all great nations, under the ideals which Lincoln called "The last, best hope of earth." They know what they are fighting for. They know how precious freedom is. And they know the sorrowful truth that blood must be shed if freedom is to be preserved.

Back of the fighting men of America are the people and a production machine unparalleled on earth. Labor and industry will not shirk the gigantic task that time and circumstance have given it. The price of failure, we all know, would be the death of freedom. The days ahead will be hard and bitter, but no one can doubt what the eventual end will be—victory for freedom, for a way of life that respects the dignity of man. It is all there in one word—freedom. Freedom of speech, freedom of press, freedom of worship, freedom of enterprise. These are what we possess, and these are what we are fighting to save and to perpetuate forever.

American industry is ready for this war. Go down the roster of our great industries—the railroads, the power systems, the steel mills, the motor makers, the coal and metal mines, the oil wells and refining plants, the airplane factories and the rest. American industry, now, represents a veritable miracle of preparedness. And now the tempo of production will be stepped up again and again. There can be no "business as usual," "strikes as usual," or "politics as usuall," from now on.

Let there be no despair. Let there be instead, uncompromising determination. War has been forced upon us. It has been forced upon us by a nation to which we offered friendship, economic cooperation, aid in solving its problems—everything, in short, except the right to pillage and destroy and conquer. Now our enemies will learn how free men, backed by the limitless resources of our country and men in our army and navy, can acquit themselves in battle.

WE MAN THE FRONT LINES

"With confidence in our armed forces—with the unbounded determination of our people — we will gain the inevitable triumph—so help us God!"

When President Roosevelt spoke those words to the Congress of the United States, it was not alone an expression of confidence in the might of our army and navy. It was the President's declaration of faith in the people of the nation who must keep their courage high and their hands busy, regardless of danger and sacrifices.

Here in California we are manning the front lines in the most momentous era in American history. Here the air raid sirens already have sounded; here we already have grown accustomed to having our radio stations suddenly go off the air. Here we are becoming used to blackouts and warnings that enemy aircraft are hovering off our coastline.

There can be no panic or hysteria now. Nor can we afford confusion. We have a job to do, here in California. We are the nation's biggest producer of food. We are the center of the vital aircraft industry and we are building battle cruisers and subchasers, transports and destroyers. And here, with their bases all about us, are the men of the army and navy who man our coastal defenses.

We must keep cool. We must do our part in civilian defense. We must stay on the job—each in his own place—whether our job be humble or of vital military importance. Above all, we must keep production moving. We are in America's front lines—and we must prove to the world that no force can prevail against us. Our danger is greater; our responsibility is heavier, but we have a privilege of which we are proud. We are first line troops in the battle to defend our Country and our democracy.

RUMOR MONGERS

From little whispers mountainous rumors grow. The Monday morning quarterbacks, now in guise of armchair strategists, are now telling us what's wrong with the army and navy. These people, most of them well-meaning, are specialists on "inside information." With no access to information denied anyone else, they will solemnly pass off the most irresponsible rumors as fact. Unknowingly, the rumormonger abets the enemy. Wide awake Americans will discourage or avoid them.

LEST YOU FORGET

In all the bustle of the season's shopping, there's a special thought to be carried with us this year. Do not overlook a gift or remembrance to the men in the armed forces. Naturally, we make this suggestion not to the fathers, mothers or relatives of men in their country's service, but to all their friends and acquaintances.

There are probably very few of us who do not know at least one selectee, or an enlisted man in the Army or Navy, who would be pleased and cheered to receive some token of our thoughtfulness. Whether it be a gift, a letter or card you send, that gesture is sure to add welcome brightness to their Christmas Day, and it will do much to take the keen edge off that homesickness that's sure to be felt by the men forced to remain at army camps, airfields and naval training stations through the holidays.

You can make it a cheerier Christmas for the defenders of our shores and homes. Remember them!

DAN CUPID SPEAKS UP

Dan Cupid has been a little reluctant about withdrawing arrows from his quiver since California two years ago passed a law requiring a medical examination of couples before marriage. In that two-year period, Reno's marriage license business has doubled, from 11,061 in 1939 to 20,700 in 1941, up to the end of November. But since the outbreak of war on December 7, marriage license bureaus in many sections of California report a land-office business, with many enlisted men among the enrollees in Cupid's ranks. Mars, it's evident, has prodded Cupid into speaking right out loud.

Christmas Carols in the Camps Feature American Soldier's Yule

LUCKY indeed is the soldier who obtains a Christmas furlough and spends a portion of his holiday season at home, but what about those hundreds of thousands of American boys in our Army who will remain on duty in the cantonments and island bases and in garrisoning distant outposts?

The answer is voiced in a song—a glorious hymn that will be heard from virile young throats singing in praise of Him in whom reposes mankind's steadfast hope in this dark hour of the world's history.

The hymn, a favorite of the American soldier and of his forebears in arms since colonial campfires, "O Come, All Ye Faithful," will be sung in 200 new Army chapels where this year Christmas services will be held for the first time.

In his spiritual life, Army chaplains declare, the citizen soldier finds the closest tie linking military duties with the cherished customs of his home. Especially among young men from the farming communities and the towns and smaller cities the observance of Christmas in camps will not be unlike the programs in churches throughout the land where friends and neighbors assemble for the Christian festival. In Army chapels the same midnight services will be held, the youthful worshipper will join in the same inspiring music, he will hear again the same messages of hope, the same fervent prayers for peace and good will.

During Yuletide the singing of familiar carols will enliven the camps, not only in the training areas at home but the same music of cheer and comfort will echo from the cliffs of Iceland and the wastes of Greenland as well as among the tropic shores of Trinidad, Guiana, and the Orient. For the Chief of Chaplains has announced the distribution of the new Army and Navy Hymnal, a book containing the best in sacred themes, subdivided for Protestant, Catholic, and Jewish forms of worship. Special visitations will be made to the hospitals. Neither will the inmates of the guardhouse be overlooked. All will share the spirit of Christmas.

At this season the 1,626 chaplains in our Army take stock of their efforts through the year, and the Chief of Chaplains advises the Chief of Staff as well as the home folks that most encouraging progress has been made for the spiritual well-being of the troops. Where 11,640,000 soldiers attended religious services during the last fiscal year with an average of 97.8 persons at each service, it is pointed out that there is now a much larger participation and a corresponding increase in the ministration of holy sacraments.

Said a veteran chaplain:

"The tradition established by those pioneer soldiers who bowed in prayer on the eve of Bunker Hill and in the storm-swept camps at Valley Forge is still alive in the hearts of America's defenders in arms."

SANTA CLAUS CAN HELP AMERICAN DEFENSE! This poster, drawn by J. W. and W. J. Wilkinson, a father and son artist team of Baltimore, reminds Americans that they can help the Defense Program this Christmas by giving Defense Bonds and Stamps in addition to the usual present. Nation-wide distribution of this poster has been made, especially in the windows of 500,000 retail stores where Defense Stamps—for as low as 10 cents—are now on sale.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

All those who signed for any of the services at the mass meeting are requested to call at the Campbell Water company office any day, as soon as possible, between the hours of 8-12 a. m. and 1-5 p. m. to fill out the proper registration cards with which the defense council has now been supplied.

Any who were not at the meeting and wish to register for some branch of service may do so at the same place. A girl will be on duty at the hours named.

Jack Leverton, who has been having primary flying training at Santa Maria, spent the time from Saturday night to Tuesday here with his family, the J. O. Levertons, and then went on to Merced for his basic training.

THE BOOK MARK

by marty

Volcanic Isle by Wilfrid Fleisher.

If the Book Mark's memory registers accurately, this book was mentioned, only briefly, in a previous report, however, world conditions, and especially our present war dangers here at home make it of paramount interest to each and every American. Authentic and up-to-date information about Japan, reports on the inner activities of the governing group of "Volcanic Isle," handed to us in a smooth, fast and straightforward style, augment the interest and timeliness of this book.

For the second time in the last few days, your Book Mark has been thrilled to discover that the titles of the last two books reviewed have been ,in its humble opinion, aptly chosen. They suit the tales to a 't'.

Wilfrid Fleisher went to Japan as a boy. His father bought the newspaper in that country known as "The Japan Advertiser." In November, 1940, the political pressure forced the "Advertiser" to quit, subsequently making Fleisher our Washington correspondent for the New York Herald Tribune, a paper he had served in "Volcanic Isle." Because of his many years of wide experiences in Japan undoubtedly the author knows better than any other American the country about which he has written. It isn't one of those books written by someone who has spent but a few brief years in a place. He has lived in the country about which he has written practically all of his life and has seen the ups and downs, the ins and outs, the why and wherefores of many questions and situations, over a long period of time.

The little people, I mean the humble, the lower and the middle class Japanese, the author tells about in an interesting and entertaining way, giving us a vivid picture of how life in Japan is lived, which has always seemed quite incomprehensible to us.

To understand the nature of our problems in the Pacific today, this book on Japan is one that will help you.

Joy radiated in the J. H. Bachman home yesterday when Bud Bachman was safe in San Francisco and told his family he would be home in the evening.

Christmas Party Club's Program Monday Afternoon

Members of the Country Woman's club were entertained at a gay and colorful Christmas tea on Monday, Dec. 15. The Yuletide spirit was predominate in the lovely decorations of pine cones and branches. Red candles lent a mellow glow to the scene.

The chairs were grouped about the fireplace where colonial furniture, rugs and a spinning wheel set the scene for the days theme, "Colonial Customs."

To give added color and a still more festive atmosphere many of the ladies were dressed in beautiful colonial costumes.

Mrs. G. E. Jeffers, president of the group, acted as general chairman and introduced the program. Others on the committee were: Mrs. Dan Clark, Mrs. Lowell Benson, Mrs. T. A. Cutting, Mrs. Louis Gray, Mrs. E. L. Farnham, Mrs. LeRoy Gast and Mrs. M. Virgil Cook.

The a cappella choir of the high school sang carols under the direction of C. P. Klassen. The vested choir filed in carrying candles and singing "Oh Come All Ye Faithful." As the following carols were sung Mr. Klassen told a little of the background of each one. They were: "Hark Now, Oh Shepherd," "Carol of the Russian Children," "Carol of the Bells," "Joseph Came Seeking a Resting Place," "Sweet Little Jesus Boy" with soloist Teresa Conetto and Ruth Cousins, "Deck the Halls," "The First Noel," and as the choir filed out the boys and girls hummed "Silent Night, Holy Night." The a cappella choir of Campbell is well known for its beautiful interpretations and this performance warranted all the praise that has and can be given it.

Also on the program were musical selections by pupils of Kenneth McDonnell, faculty member of the high high school. Lenore Campbell played a flute solo accompanied by Marcelline Benech. Saxaphone solos were played by Jane Gerrans, accompanied by Robert Wheeler. A violin duet was played by Carl Sorensen and Russell Wolfram. They,too, were accompanied by Robert Wheeler.

This group of musical selections was closed by all of the students playing "God Bless America."

Mrs. Jeffers spoke to the group about Yuletide spirit. "Let us be merry," she said. "We should try to keep a balanced mind in an unbalanced world."

After the program a delicious tea was served by the committee. Mrs. W. H. Van Dyke and Mrs. Jeffers poured at the beautifully arranged tea table.

Sequoia Defeats High's Grapplers

Instead of the junior tournament scheduled at Sequoia High school in Redwood City last Saturday, a dual wrestling meet was held in the Campbell High gym between Sequoia and Campbell Friday.

Sequoia's team had a hard struggle on its hands but finally came out victorious, 24 to 10. Several of Coach Hudson's veterans from last year rewarded their mentor with victories.

The mother of Arthur Fantozzi and Mrs. Gulierma Barbano of Campbell passed away in San Jose on Dec. 10 and funeral services were held Saturday from the Chapel of Flowers and the Holy Family church, with interment in Santa Clara cemetery. Mrs. Fantozzi was a native of Italy, 78 years of age.

Mrs. J. A. Herrington of Vergennes, Vt., arrived Sunday evening to spend the winter in Campbell and Santa Clara valley. Mrs. Herrington is an aunt of Mrs. Howard J. Smith.

Mercier Heads S. P.

First official act of A. T. Mercier on taking office as president of Southern Pacific was to issue a war-time appeal to the company's 60,000 employes. "Our first duty is to our government and I know the men and women of our railroad will give a good account of themselves," he said.

The FARMERS CORNER

by RALPH H. TAYLOR

Executive Secretary Agricultural Council of California

Food will win the war!

That slogan, famous during days of the first World War, is again rapidly forging into the headlines.

No longer are there interventionists and non-interventionists in this nation; no longer can there be any question of agriculture's job in the current emergency. The die has been cast. The job from this point on is to make certain that America emerges victorious.

And California ,the biggest food producer of all the 48 states, has a mighty task to perform in making certain that the American people—and the American Army—shall have good food in abundance, delivered when it is needed.

Since the first shot was fired, many days have gone. The United Navy is on the firing line, giving a good account of itself. American transports are taking more and more troops across the Pacific. American planes are doing a workmanlike job of protecting our coastline.

Subs are going out the Golden Gate, and are leaving Los Angeles Harbor in ever increasing number. The battle is on. But somewhere in the back trenches, American agriculture—particularly California agriculture — must produce the raw materials which will keep the fighting forces in food and clothing; which will keep them fit and in top fighting condition. That is the job of the farmer—and the farmer is equal to the challenge.

Agriculture, for nearly two decades, has been going through a period of diminishing returns, regardless of farm efficiency, regardless of the farmer's determination to do a good job; regardless of government restrictions and taxes. The farmer, in short, has been on the spot, but the farmer has simply refused to be licked—and now he has a job to do, for the United States of America and he refuses to be licked!

Will the farmer do that job? Of course he will. Because farmers are rock-ribbed Americans, who will put aside all else to do a job for their nation. If the battle of the Pacific depends on a bountiful supply of food and clothing—if it depends on raw materials harvested by California agriculture—then California farmers will help win that battle, no matter what their personal sacrifice may be.

But farmers can't win that battle alone, for agriculture, today, is a complex industry. The farmer may plant more; he may harvest more; but the fruits of the farmer's toil must be taken to market; it must be processed; it must be delivered to the consumer. That means that organized labor must join in with the farmer in making this all-out effort a success. It means that men who work in processing plants and factories—on trucks and in canneries—must have the same objective, ultimate victory for the United States of America.

The main objective now is victory. We have a job to do. And the cry of the hour is unity. The farmer is on the production line; the only question is this: Is labor, forgetting all else, ready to stay on the marketing line? If it is, which we are sure it is, nothing can stop our America!

side lights has arisen here and elsewhere, some believing it necessary to extinguish all outside business lights. Such is not the case, according to Chief Warden Grim, who said that while it is desireable to have as little light as possible, lights are permissible unless, of course, a black-out is called for. This ruling does not apply to neon signs, which are taboo until further notice. House lights should all be extinguished when no one is going to be home, Grim added, for in the event of a black-out wardens will be too busy to break into houses to put them out.

P.-T. A., Kiwanis Enjoy C.U.H.S. Xmas Program

The Campbell Union High School P.-T. A. unit met for the monthly meeting Tuesday noon, December 16, at the high school auditorium. Presiding was Mrs. Anthony Jurras, president.

Due to the national emergency Fathers' Night was cancelled, and the P.-T. A. members joined with the Kiwanis club to enjoy the high school Christmas program.

Mrs. Jessie Shelley led in the pledge to our flag, and the singing of "My Country 'Tis of Thee" was conducted by C. P. Klassen.

A message from the State President, Mrs. Margaret Strong, urged all P.-T. A. members to give of their time to Red Cross work and contributions to the war fund. Mrs. Howard J. Smith urged members and friends to sew or knit for the Red Cross on Wednesdays and Fridays from 1 to 4 p. m. at the community hall.

First aid classes for those with some experience will begin Thursday, Dec. 18, under the direction of Mrs. Alfreda Runge. After the first of the year, classes for beginners will start.

The members voted to purchase a tuberculosis bond.

The Christmas program was very impressive and consisted of orchestral numbers under the direction of Kenneth McDonnell and the a cappella choir rendered several Christmas carols, C. P. Klassen directing. Teresa Conetto sang the solo part'of "Sweet Little Jesus Boy." The Christmas tableaux portrayed the nativity story. Miss Mary Lewis, art teacher, was responsible for this part of the program.

On Jan. 14, 1942, at 2 p. M. the next regular meeting will be held to discuss the topic of Health and Safety.

Mrs. Walter Cogan with the help of Dan W. Clark and W. B. Higginbotham initiated a service for the soldiers here by supplying them with some Christmas cards and stamps.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Nielson of San Jose, formerly of Campbell, are waiting anxiously for news of their son, Reed Nielson, 18, seaman first class, who was stationed on the U. S. S. Utah, one of the battleships sunk in Pearl Harbor.

FIRST AID COMMITTEE

is anxious to secure pledges of the loan of beds, pillows, blankets, etc., against the time when it might be necessary to put the second station into operation in a hurry. All such equipment should be registered now with either Mr. Stray or Mr. Burrow, and such early registration will considerably expedite the work of the committee.

Personnel to staff the stations will be supplied by the central emergency committee, with which practically all local graduate and practical nurses have registered. Medical supplies will come from various sources through the committee.

"We sincerely hope that none of these facilities will have to be used," said Mr. Burrow, "but with the situation as it is the sooner we are fully equipped and ready to go into operation, the better it will be for all of us. And the committee will certainly appreciate all the cooperation it can get."

The Men's club held a very successful meeting Monday evening, initiating its fourth year of service, when 40 men sat down to dinner in spite of work and weather. The message of Rev. Augustine Jones describing Christmas in other lands, was of special note.
